Admiral Robert Inman
Deputy Director
Central Intelligence Agency
Washington, D. C. 20505

Dear Admiral Inman:

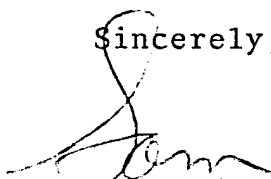

Congratulations on your new assignment which reflects the tremendous respect and capabilities you have in this area. I was pleased to support both your promotion and appointment.

I am writing concerning a monthly one-half hour television program I host which is carried on both the educational and commercial stations in Georgia and which probes, in depth, major issues of national importance. I would be honored if you would agree to appear with me on the first program for 1981 which will be aired during the month of March. A list of past programs and participants is attached.

The program would be recorded in the Senate Recording Studio at a time mutually convenient with our schedules during the first two weeks of March. It is my view that a program discussing the problems and challenges facing America's intelligence community would be very timely and interesting to our Georgia viewers.

I have asked Arnold Punaro, my Legislative Assistant for Defense and Foreign Policy matters, to work with you and your staff on the program. Arnold will be calling on you in a few days to discuss the extent of your interest in participating.

Sincerely,

Sam Nunn
